The Band Plan – Where are the CW Stations?

The Band Plan – Where are the CW Stations?

- ▶ Look Towards the Top of the CW Sub-band
 - Typically 50 to about 70 Khz above band edge
 - Slowest CW
 - Less QRM
- ▶ Stay below the unofficial Data frequencies (RTTY, FT8, etc.)

How to Initiate a Contact

- ▶ CQ CQ CQ CQ DE W2XYZ W2XYZ K
 - Number of repeats is up to the operator
- ▶ Answer at calling station's speed or slower
 - Not Faster
 - Send his/her call once "DE" your call twice then "K"
- ▶ If you call the CQ, first send "QRZ DE K2OID" to be sure the frequency is clear
 - I suggest CQ CQ CQ DE K2OID repeated twice then "K"
 - Ideally you want only 1 answer

The Initial Exchanges

You repeat your call twice in your first call as insurance that the other station has your call correct.

Note that dashes are used in place of periods to separate “sections”

He/She sends K2OID DE W2XYZ
so that:

- You know he/she has your call correct
- That W2XYZ is actually in QSO with you, not someone else

Before anything else you will hear your signal report sent twice because he/she has no idea how well you are copying his/her signal

Interpreting the QSO so far

- ▶ The Signal Report or RST
 - Readability (Scale from 1 – 5)
 - Most of the time it will be “5” (perfectly readable)
 - 4 means some difficulty (perhaps interference (QRM) or static/noise (QRN))
 - 3 (rare) means significant difficult
 - 2 (even more rare) means barely copyable
 - 1 means no copy
 - Strength (Scale from 1 – 9)
 - More or less follows your S-Meter reading
 - I give 9 to very strong signals, 7 or 8 to strong signals, 5 or 6 to average signals, 3 or 4 to weak signals, and 1 or 2 to very weak signals

Interpreting the QSO so far

- Strength (Scale from 1 – 9) Cont'd
 - Be honest about strength, don't just repeat what the other station sends
 - In contests most stations just send "599" as in:
 - UR 599 – PSE RPT ALL
 - Besides QRN and QRM, a common "add" is QSB or signal fading e.g. 599QSB
 - If there is QSB, I give a signal report based on the strongest it has been
- Tone (Scale from 1 – 9)
 - This is a hold over from the spark and vacuum tube days. It should be 9 unless the other signal is truly bad (e.g. 60 Hz hum or chirp)

- QTH and Name
 - After the RST, the QTH is sent first
 - I generally send "NR ROCHESTER, NY" twice
 - Your name is the final information on the first exchange (again sent twice)
 - Note that many stations have computers with QRZ.com, so they have your information

The Initial Exchanges

- ▶ His/Her typical reply
 - His rig
 - His weather
 - Perhaps a question or comment for your response

The Initial Exchanges

- ▶ Some possible rag chew topics
 - How long a ham
 - Age
 - Equipment
 - Been to your QTH
- ▶ Some QSOs are very short while others can last hours

Hints and Tips

- ▶ Always begin your transmission with feedback on copy
For example:
 - FB GEORGE – SOLID COPY
 - QRM TT TIME BUT GOT MOST
 - QTH AGN PSE BK
- ▶ If the other station is sending too fast for you don't hesitate to QRS
For example:
 - I AM NEW TO CW – PSE QRS
- ▶ Abbreviations are optional!!!

Hints and Tips

- ▶ Never hesitate to have something you missed repeated.
- ▶ Remember that you are in the low speed sub-band.
 - It is expected that less experienced CW ops (“not show offs”) will be found there.
- ▶ Dashes (–) are often used in place of other punctuation

Hints and Tips

- ▶ Signing “KN” rather than “K” means “no breakers”
 - Used most often during rag chew with DX or a rare state
 - Otherwise you are welcomed to “break in” between exchanges
 - Useful when going after that “new one”

Tying the Ribbon

- ▶ When it's involuntary (e.g. QRN, QRM, QSB)
 - On your turn say some thing similar to:
SRI – NO CPY CUZ QRM – 73 ES TNX QSO – HPE CU
AGN – SK W2XYZ DE K2OID CL
- ▶ When you have other commitments, say so:
 - XYL CLG ME TO DINNER
 - MUST CATCH SOME ZZ
- ▶ More commonly:
 - TT IS ALL FROM HR – QRU?

This is my last transmission
(also "Silent Key"
e.g. deceased)

Hope to see you again

Sleep

Station is closing down
(or clear for this QSO)

That's all from here - do you have anything more for me?

Confirming a contact (QSL)

- ▶ If you want a confirmation (or QSL) now is the time to ask for it. For example:
 - PSE QSL or PSE QSL VIA BURO
 - Answer will probably be QSL SURE
- ▶ Note: QSL also means “I heard you”, more or less synonymous with RR. “QSL?” means “did you copy what I just sent?”

ARRL QSL Bureau

Please

- ▶ Note: QSL also means “I heard you”, more or less synonymous with RR. “QSL?” means “did you copy what I just sent?”

The Final Exchange

- ▶ The final exchange for both sides ends with an “SK” then the call signs and finally “CL”.
For example:
- ▶ TNX NICE QSO – GE – SK AR W2XYZ DE K2OID
CL

The Final Exchange

- ▶ The final exchange for both sides ends with an “SK” then the call signs and finally “CL”.
For example:
- ▶ TNX NICE QSO – GE – SK AR W2XYZ DE K2OID

Good evening

...But wait! There's More

▶ Final flourishes

- After the “final” transmissions (the CLs) there is often a “CW goodbye handshake” without call signs
- Technically against the rules but everyone does it
- Example:
 - GE BOB E E (two spaced dits)
 - GE GEORGE E E

Final Remarks

- ▶ CW is really both a shorthand and a language
 - For us English speakers it is relatively easy to master
 - It has English syntax
 - Most abbreviations are of English origin
- ▶ Once you get on the air, you will quickly pick up the way things work
- ▶ You'll see why many of us think of it as the most elegant and enjoyable operating mode
